Dear Colleagues,

IBDnet TALKS is a continuous educational program for fellows in gastroenterology and hepatology as well as for experienced clinicians who wish to refresh and expand their knowledge. Since its initiation in 2016, the program has evolved into a well-established national training curriculum with steadily growing participation.

The interactive webinar format has attracted a high number of unique participants over the years and has consistently received positive feedback. Building on this sustained resonance, we are pleased to continue IBDnet TALKS in 2026 with a series of training modules.

As in previous editions, you may register for each module individually, allowing you to receive the respective certificate of attendance as well as SGG core credit points.

We look forward to an exciting new edition of IBDnet TALKS in 2026!

Yours faithfully,
